THE WORLD

SCHOOL PARTNERSHIPS PROGRAM:

Who is School the World?

School the World is a non-profit with educational programs in Central America and a Global Citizenship Program in the U.S., traditionally focused on offering high school service trips to Guatemala and Panama.

How can we help you?

We have a newly-launched program for your use, which includes a curriculum designed to develop thoughtful global citizens. This K-12 program (tailored by grade level) can be used virtually or face-to-face, aligns with state learning standards, and can be a stand-alone workshop or supplement an already-developed school curriculum.

Who can access this program?

Classroom teachers, media specialists, guidance counselors, community coordinators, PTO members, and more!

What do you need to do?

Your involvement level is your choice - our staff does the heavy lifting! We Zoom directly into your classroom with engaging lessons, activities, and special visits from our World Changer alumni who have traveled with us and can speak to their firsthand experiences in Central America.

Why is our program unique?

This turnkey program is low-effort for teachers, offers the opportunity to connect with Central American students, and empowers older American students to teach younger students directly. With age-appropriate lessons and activities, each student will become a more engaged global citizen.

How much does this program cost?

This program is free to access. We invite and encourage classes to further their involvement by fundraising for School the World. Our staff can provide resources and continued support for those who choose to do so.

What's next?

If interested, I'd love to connect and discuss how we can customize our program to fit your classroom needs - please email sarah.pease@schooltheworld.org to get started.
